CARLYLE, Ill., Mar. 3.—Tearing loose the drain pipe of cell lavatory, Thomas A. Davis, 19 year old Pittsburgh high school student, who had allegedly confessed the slaying of a Pennsylvania State Highway patrolman, today pried loose his cell bars and escaped from the county jail here.

Davis, also charged with assaulting Deputy Sheriff J. P. Donnell of Carlyle, was held here pending action of his requested extradition to Pittsburgh.

Hunt Is Started

Sheriff J. D. Erlinger discovered the young prisoner absent when he went to his cell at 7:30 this morning. The sheriff and two Pennsylvania State Highway patrolmen, Captain John Funk and Lieut. Charles A. Keller, who came here to return the young prisoner to Pennsylvania, immediately started a hunt for the fugitive.

When the sheriff entered the cell of the youth, who had been held in separate section of the jail apart from other prisoners, he found his prisoner gone and the double set of bars of the cell pried loose and part of the brick wall at the window broken out.

The prisoner had used the drain pipe to pry open the bars.

PA NEW OBSERVES

If you don't think the letter carriers aren't glad the mild weather's back, just ask them. In talking to one of the veteran postmen, one who has trod the local streets for many a year, Pa New learned that it was about the coldest he ever endured.

And, by way of reminder, your income tax papers are due March 15. You don't want to neglect to file them.

near Pa New:

J. M. Wallace, supervisor of CWA workers at Gaston park, brought to my attention the other day that he had discovered a bee tree and was watching the activities of the workers by kicking out the drones. This is a process that takes place in bees and hives at the coming of spring. This is a peculiar habit of the working bees of ridding their colony of drones. Working bees live three to four weeks after their working season in the fall. The queen bee's life averages from five to ten years.

OWEN PENFIELD FOX.

Pa New has just discovered how the youngsters have been coasting and auto traffic at Oak and Ray streets this week. A couple of youngsters with red lanterns were stationed at the intersection and when the bobs were coming, halted auto traffic in the manner of traffic cops.

The fire hydrant painters will have a good day again this spring. The processes of building fires round the hydrants to thaw them at during the terrific cold weather as left most of them badly smoked and in need of a coat of paint.

Big Run was reported as the first ream in this section to show the signs of water rising. It was going through the South Side this morning in quite a torrent.

It took several men to push a huge truck which was stuck in the snow on North street, this morning.

Two Banks Open Monday On Unrestricted Basis

At nine o'clock a. m., Monday, March 5, the Peoples Bank of New Castle and the Bessemer State Bank of Bessemer will open on an unrestricted basis. Both the State and Federal banking departments have examined the banks and have given their unqualified approval of the order to open. All deposits under $2500 will be guaranteed by Federal government and interest at the usual rate will apply on deposits which have been held since the bank holiday went on just a year ago.

"We are very happy to open the banks on an unrestricted basis" said Adolph Green, president of both institutions today. "While we have been very certain in the past twelve months that there was no question about our ability to open again, it is a matter of deep satisfaction to be able to announce it. Our employees will be on hand Monday to do a banking business without any restriction whatever."

Both banks were closed in March 1933 when President Roosevelt issued his bank holiday proclamation. At the end of the bank holiday certain banks were permitted to open only on a restricted basis and this was the case with the Peoples and the Bessemer. Since that time, under orders of the banking departments the officials of the two banks have been engaged in reducing assets to a greater state of liquidity, complying with certain specifications of the departments and with this all done to the satisfaction of the State and Federal government, the two banks are on a basis that is approved and will open Monday.

President Completes First Year Of Term, And New Deal Effort

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—President Roosevelt completes his first year in the White House tomorrow. The new deal is a year old.

It has been, friends and critics agree, one of the most remarkable periods in the peace-time history of the country, and certainly one of the most tempestuous first years any administration ever put in.

Fast Moving Era

Things have moved at breath-taking speed since that bleak fourth of March a year ago, when Franklin D. Roosevelt took over the reins of government from Herbert Hoover on the wind-swept plaza of the capitol. The next day he electrified the country by an executive order closing every bank in the country, and from that date onward the new administration has moved at a dizzy pace to combat the forces of depression and unemployment.

Many Experiments
Great experiments have been embarked upon, precedents shattered right and left, new agencies of government—undreamed of a year ago.

OMAHA, Neb., Mar. 3.—Army is handling the mail very sensibly now.

I left New York at 2 a. m., arrived Chicago at 6 a. m. Weather in and around Chicago was bad, they held us there till noon. No mail in or out. You see both Army and commercial are very careful.

Talked to General Westover, in charge of all Army flyers, and Col. Hickam of Chicago area. They said they were taking no chances. Some banker may lose a day's interest on his checks, but that's the worst case.

What about the flyers, and the old duck privates, some of which draw only 21 dollars a month, and have been moved away off up here from their posts. They want some money, they are eating and sleeping on credit, and living off the generosity of the towns they are in. So hurry up and get busy, congress.

Continue To Watch Rivers

City officials today stated that they do not believe that there will be any flood here owing to the frozen ice in the Nashannock Creek. The drizzle of last night softened the ice and on both sides of the stream the water was flowing off fast. In the middle of the creek, near the East Washington street bridge the water has created a break.

"If conditions continue as they now are I do not fear a flood will occur" said Director of Streets, B. F. Butler. "However," he added "we will continue to watch the situation."

CROWN POINT, Ind., Mar. 3.—With a wooden toy pistol, John Dillinger, America's most notorious killer and bank robber, cowed twenty-four heavily armed guards in the Lake county jail today and escaped in broad daylight with a fellow prisoner.

Seizing two machine guns from their jailers, and forcing a deputy sheriff and a garage attendant to accompany them, Dillinger and his companion sped north out of Crown Point in a stolen car, towards Chicago.

Second Escape.

Dillinger's escape was the second of his career and among the most spectacular breaks in the history of American crime.

Obtaining the machine guns, Dillinger and his companion, a giant negro, cowed the guard and deputies, forced them into a cell and backed out of the jail house, locking the doors after them.

At the same time it was reported that Dillinger liberated three other prisoners. Telling the three men to "scram," the desperado then ordered George Blunt, a deputy sheriff, to go with him.

Earlier in the jailhouse, Dillinger had called out to the guards and deputies: "Don't move or I'll fill you full of lead."

Takes Police Car.

Outside, he singled out a black police sedan, forced Blunt into the driver's seat, climbed in beside him, and with his machine gun, seized in the jail, poked into the deputy's side, ordered:

"Now drive, and drive like hell."

Early reports of the jail break, erroneous because of the hysteria of the guards and deputies who were victimized, said that the negro had liberated Dillinger after walking in.

Large Force At Work On New Grasselli Building

While more than ordinary speed has been made on the erection of a new kiln building at the plant of the Grasselli Chemical company, it will be some weeks yet before the building is ready for occupancy, according to Henry Rappold, manager.

The new building is of structural steel with the furnaces and gas capturing equipment inside lined with brick. In size it is about 150x60 feet.

No estimate was placed on the total cost of the building and equipment being installed but it appears to be approximately $100,000. A Cottrell dust collector and a Glover tower are added outside the building, the dust collector being to capture the sulphur dust that has been escaping, and the Glover tower to capture the gases as they rise from the roasting ore and taken on their way to the condensation equipment where they are condensed into sulphuric acid.

The tower is lined with brick and covered with sheet lead weighing 16 pounds to the square foot. The dust collector is a three-bin affair and will eliminate the waste of sulphur through dust precipitation.

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Mar. 3.—Alexander Ray, 40, Cleveland, O., died in a hospital here today from injuries received when a crack Pennsylvania passenger train left its tracks and crashed on Pittsburgh's northside Monday night.

Ray's death brought the toll of lives claimed in the disaster to 11. More than two score persons were injured.

Death of the 11th victim occurred as federal and state authorities pushed their investigation of the tragedy. Statements made by seven railroad men, recovering at hospitals from injuries, said they believed W. M. Shaw, New Castle, Pa., engineer, either was unconscious or dead at the throttle preceding the crash. Other railroad men testified they did not hear the train's whistle or air-brakes applied as the train rounded a turn preceding the disaster.

Mr. Roosevelt himself ends his first year in the White House in a genial mood.

President Serene.

His hair is a little thinner and a little grayer than a year ago; there are lines in his face that weren't there a year ago, but he still laughs and jokes with newspaper reporters and with friends, and maintains a serene confidence in the face of everything. His physical condition is good, thanks to a strict regimen; his digestion is good, he sleeps well, and on the whole he feels what his predecessor of the same name described as "bully." He swims daily in the White House pool, his only form of exercise.

No particular celebration is planned for the end of the first year, other than the ten members of his cabinet will tender him a dinner tomorrow.

On Monday, however, Mr. Roosevelt is going on a national radio hook-up, in which he is expected to give a survey of the year's accomplishments, a sort of accounting of his stewardship.

Thus endeth the first year.

which the federal government was represented by approximately 60 per cent of the cost.

Supplementing these attempts to deal with unemployment, the conservation corps camps were organized. Two series of these camps have been filled, with a third scheduled to follow when the current forestry workers are demobilized.

Long Range Attack

The second, and what President Roosevelt terms the long-range phase of the attack on unemployment, already is on. Beginning immediately under this plan some hundreds of thousands of people are to be shifted bodily from localities where unemployment is prevalent to non-affected farms or decentralized industrial areas, to combine farm life with seasonal industry employment.

Other thousands will be given "made work" in their communities. They will be paid by federal funds, until regular employment can absorb them again. By next Monday whole states will be embarked on the new plan, designed to eliminate the need for the CWA, which is to be abandoned May 1.

FIRE THREATENS WAGNER BUILDING

The walls in the bathroom of the second floor apartment and worked its way between the partitions, upward and downward. When discovered it had gained a fairly good start, but with plenty of help available, as six companies answered the alarms from box 114, the fire was soon brought under control.

The apartments on the third floor were the only rooms occupied, Miss Bessie Harris and her sister living there.

The water pipes to the third floor became frozen between the walls and a workman had been engaged in the task of thawing them out for several days. A great quantity of burlap had been wrapped around ten pipes to protect them from the cold, and a spark is believed to have gotten into the burlap, starting the fire.

Three-Story Block

The Wagner building is a three-story brick structure. There is a store-room on the first floor which has been vacant, and apartments on the second and third floors. In the rear of the second and third floors were big warehouses which were used for storage purposes by Philip Wagner & Son when they were engaged in the feed and grain business some years ago. These were badly scorched by the fire.

Two other alarms were answered by firemen last evening, no damage resulting in these cases. One was a false alarm from box 53, and the other a chimney fire on Magee street.

to the cell house with a machine gun. What actually happened was that as a guard approached his cell about 9:30 a. m., Dillinger covered him with what appeared to be a heavy pistol, and ordered him to open his cell door, under threats of immediate death.

Drops Wooden Pistol.

As the guard opened the door, Dillinger seized his sub-machine gun, dropped his wooden pistol to the floor, and swung the gun to cover the entrance to the cell row where another guard stood.

Threatening death to the guard if he made a sound or moved, Dillinger liberated the other prisoners, one of them the giant negro. Marching into the jail office, Dillinger covered the six regular deputy sheriffs and 16 extra guards with his machine gun. His giant companion seized another machine gun, and the pair drove the guards and deputies back into the cell tier and locked them in.

Hundreds of police were mobilized and thrown into a heavy blockade in every direction from Crown Point within a half hour after word had flashed of Dillinger's escape. The army was composed of virtually every police organization in Indiana and northern Illinois.

Woman Sheriff Hysterical.

GARY, Ind., Mar. 3.—Sheriff Lillian Holley became hysterical when she learned of the escape of John Dillinger, notorious killer, from her "fool proof" jail at Crown Point. She telephoned the Gary police for aid instead of directing that a net of police be thrown out to capture the fugitives if they passed through the town. She shrieked into the telephone: "Send down all the police and guns you've got."

Then hung up the receiver. It was 15 minutes before Gary headquarters could learn the reason for the call.

CHICAGO, Mar. 3.—Two hours after John Dillinger and his negro companion had escaped from the county jail at Crown Point, Ind., they released Deputy Sheriff Blunt from their car in Peotone, Ill., 35 miles south of here.

The car then was reported to have headed south out of Peotone on highway No. 49, then turned off to the county road eastward toward the Kankakee river valley.

Upon being released, Blunt immediately joined in the hunt for the escaped desperadoes.

if all the other guests had succeeded in escaping. The origin of the fire was under investigation. It started in the basement, in the elevator wall, according to Henry M. Jones, night clerk, who sounded the fire alarm system.

An apartment house beside the hotel was endangered until firemen, responding to three alarms, brought the flames under control with the damage estimated at more than $100,000.

A drama of heroism was enacted on the second floor, where Mr. and Mrs. John S. James, a blind couple, were asleep. Awakened by the sound of the fire gong and smelling smoke, the pair found their way to a window and threw out a rope ladder. Mrs. James assisted her husband out the window to get a footing on the ladder and then climbed out herself. Both made their way to the ground in safety.

He was educated in the public school and later at the Leechburg Academy where his acquaintance with the Rev. J. W. Myers influenced his entrance into the ministry. In the spring of 1869 he went to the Orphans Home and Farm School at Zellenople as teacher and helper. Later he entered the Philadelphia Seminary and was graduated in 1877. He was ordained to the Lutheran ministry and entered upon his chosen work. The entire ministry of Rev. Riffer was spent in Western Pennsylvania where he served the parishes of Middle Lancaster, North Side, Pittsburgh, Ellwood City and the Mercer county charge at Greenville, Pa. Due to his failing eye sight he was compelled to withdraw from the active ministry but continued in supply work.

For the past several years his advanced age necessitated retirement from active work in the church, and at the time of his death he was senior member of the Pittsburgh Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church.

Rev. Riffer was united in marriage in the year 1878 to Eliza J. Lieben-dorfer who preceded him in death ten years ago. An only daughter, Mary G. Riffer, a member of the Senior High school faculty survives, also a number of nieces and nephews.

Stough, Rev. A. M. Stump and Rev. Paul J. Tau, and the officers of the Pittsburgh Synod and West conference will officiate.

Wanted As Slayer

Pittsburgh, Mar. 3.—Thomas A. Davis, the 19-year-old Pittsburgh youth who escaped from the Carlyle, Ill., county jail today, is wanted here for the slaying of State Highway patrolman Herbert Brantlinger, District Attorney Andrew T. Park said today.

Despite Davis' escape from the Illinois county jail, Park proposes to ask a grand jury to return a murder indictment against him Monday. Brantlinger was shot down outside a filling station near Bridgeville on the night of last September 3. The murderer escaped and since State police and the slain man's companion on the highway patrol have conducted an unrelenting search for the killer. When Davis was arrested at Carlyle a short time ago, two members of the Pennsylvania State police were sent there to participate in grilling the youth. The State troopers, Lieut. Charles Keller and John Funk, as well as Sheriff J. D. Erlinger of Clinton county, Ill., claim the youth admitted he fired the shot which ended Brantlinger's life.

A MOMENTOUS "FIRST YEAR"

TOMORROW America will look back upon one completed year of Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration as president, but it leaves to posterity to pass judgment upon this historic and heroic twelvemonth. It is too soon to appraise it at its real worth.

Never did an American president enter office under such handicaps as awaited Mr. Roosevelt last March 4. Many banks were closed. Industry was near a standstill. The morale of the people was at a low ebb.

Before the sun set on his inauguration day the nation knew a new helmsman had taken the wheel.

Prosperity hasn't entirely returned but the way for its return has been paved, and largely by the initiative and courage of President Roosevelt. He dared to do, and the people took new courage and new hope.

The bank holiday, which restored financial stability; the legalization of beer, which gave business an impetus; the Citizens Conservation Corps, which rehabilitated 300,000 young men and restored the faith of their families and aims in humanity and government; the Home Owners Loan Corporation, which has to save the homes of many depression victims; the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, which salvages farms; the Civil Works Administration, which brought the jobless millions through the winter secure from hunger and exposure; the Public Works Administration which is to take up the slack in employment from this point on; the National Recovery Act, which injected new life in industry; all these and others have been introduced during the year to bring new hope to those who 12 months ago hopelessly scanned the future.

This is the work of a man who will be honored and admired for it even though complete national recovery does not come in his time.

INDIVIDUALISM

Why are the people of the United States accused of lack of individualism and independent thought and tastes? It is because they enjoy a common desire for homes, radios, automobiles, movies, books, music and theatrical performances? Does the cultist demand that one man shall crave the radio, another desire an automobile and a third a book? This would be impossible on the face of it, so the wish of the individualist must be interpreted in the sense that no two persons should enjoy the same book, the same movie, the same kind of automobile and the works of the same composer.

If that is the kind of individualism the people's critics desire is it not already granted to them as near as such a thing is feasible in a country of the magnitude of the United States?

There are sixty automobile manufacturers in the United States, each making upwards of a dozen different models. In addition there are many builders of custom bodies for domestic and foreign automobiles. Obviously there is some individualism shown in the choice of an automobile. The same situation applies to the radio and to home architecture, and as for the public's literary tastes, they extend over the entire scope of literature from the classics to the lightest fiction. Thousands own radios but not all enjoy the same program.

REASONABLE DEBT

Former Vice President Dawes, in his first public address in nearly two years, told the Association of Commerce at the Palmer House in Chicago that in his judgment "we are facing continued better conditions in business and industry in this country." He arrived at that conclusion by a month of intensive study of business data. His belief is supported, he adds, by the apparent determination of the administration to carry out its program of a balanced budget in 1936.

"One has little conception of the inherent strength of our national condition who regards a maximum government debt of $32,000,000,000 as in itself endangering government credit," he said. "It is interesting to note that our present governmental indebtedness today of approximately $25,781,000,000 is about that of the government on June 30, 1919, when it was $25,635,000,000. But it is also interesting to note that at approximately the same amount of indebtedness the United States at that time was paying annually about $250,000,000 less interest than it did on the government debt during the fiscal year beginning June 30, 1919."

Since the huge debt of 1919 was cut down almost half in ten years, it should not be impossible under the right conditions, to reduce the new debt at a reassuring rate of speed.

WHY DISCRIMINATE?

Spurred on by the rowels of the theatrical profession the Immigration Committee of the House has approved bills designed to put a crimp in the influx of foreign performers.

Quite possibly our stage needs some protection against this invasion. But had it been in force some years ago the public might have been denied Charlie Chaplin, Mary Pickford, Greta Garbo and a host of others who reached stardom in this country. And while, to most discriminating judgment, a Katherine Hepburn is worth every ounce of a Norma Shearer, there will be those who still feel that the boundaries of art cannot be made arbitrarily geographical.

However, if we must draw lines, why confine the strictures to the stage? There are, for instance, numerous foreign lecturers we could do without. They never would be missed.

Today's forecast: More congress.

A friendly nation is one that wouldn't build ships to lick us if we didn't build ships to lick it.

If the Old Timers add their usual percentage of exaggeration in describing this winter several decades hence, how the younger generation will be impressed!

Receipts at the late fistic set in Miami were about five per cent of what such mammoth encounters of the century once drew. But in those days they had encounters.

Senatorial and gubernatorial contests in this spring's primary in Pennsylvania threaten to be so close that they may have to resort to counting the ballots instead of weighing them.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

THE PLAY OF THE BIRDS

On Certain Evenings, just at the time of the day that the French describe as being "between the dog and the wolf"—in the blessed twilight—the birds fly happily in the sky.

Coming home you see them, hundreds of them, in a great flock, whirling and circling against the soft colors of sun, playing a game that I am sure must give them some impossible delight. . . . Now they are all sitting on the tall bare tree, strung like black beads along its limbs. In an instant they are gone, with a soft flutter of wings, into the heavens, a moving mass. . . . They swing, they whirl, they bunch, they split apart and one crowd overwhelms a roof and pauses a moment and then joins the larger group again. Over the horizon they go, away over there by Jimmy's house, and you think the game is over, and the skies seem lonely without them. But back they come, from a quarter that is a mile away, and round and round the heavens they go, making a joy out of something that must be almost a rite with the pleasant fellows!

I think no man can tell us why the birds do this thing, but I am sure that no man or woman can look upon this parade of the birds at twilight with a quiet rush of pleasure and gratitude in his heart. . . . All day long those little birds have been on their own, each on his individual quest for food and security. . . . chattering at the cat, tugging at a worm, inspecting the bushes for insects, quarreling and struggling and competing with each other, with their thousand enemies. . . . But now, in the twilight, they are together in a gracious coronation that seems almost to be a thanksgiving for being alive. All the little particles have become a moving whole. They are hardly individuals now; they are a flock, and they remind me of that humble tumbler who had no gift of words but who came in to the altar of Our Lady long ago, in the stillness of the night, and leaped and tumbled in thankful worship. . . . For all I know, this, too, is what the birds are doing in the serene twilight, between the going of the day and the coming of the night, giving thanks in their own way for the goodness of the life that is in them.

HIGH HAT

What is your attitude after many years of separation, toward an old friend who has not progressed as far or as fast as you have?

Do you keep in the background the desire you may have to inform him of the advancement you have made?

Do you make an effort to meet him on the same friendly ground which you and he occupied in common when last you met?

Do you show any interest in his affairs and encourage him to tell you his problems in which you might be able to assist him?

Do you display a patronizing air toward him?

Your real friends, the ones who liked you when you had little, are usually glad to note or hear about your successes.

But it hurts them when they observe an indication on your part that they have lost their old place in your estimation because of the divergence in your financial or social standing.

They resent the implication that they are lacking in the essentials to elevate themselves to your position.

They don't like a braggadocio spirit, such as you exhibit.

And you might be such a comfort to your old friend by merely being a good, true human being.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE GOOD SAMARITAN!

Two motorists had a collision. They both got out of their cars, and for a few minutes the argument waxed hot. One said:

"Can't we fix this thing up? Here; take a drink," and he handed the other a flask.

He accepted and downed a man's size drink at one gulp.

"Have another," said the first. The other drank a second and a third. When the liquor was all consumed, the one who treated called a policeman.

"Here, officer," he called, "this fellow smashed into me. He's drunk; just smell his breath."

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:53. Sun rises tomorrow 6:31.

A Note From Dick Rents.

Dad:— Put this in the paper if you think it is O. K. You are the judge of that.

The Hints and Dints man was out dancing the other night when one of the party said: Fred, you dance like a man following a plow.

A Brooklyn professor says schools should tutor girls in the art of makeup and boys in ties and table manners. How about teaching the girls the proper selection of ties so a man wouldn't look so atrocious wearing some of the presents he has to?

One of the easiest ways to ditch a girl is to try driving with one hand.

When the boy was arrested for shooting craps the new social worker wanted the father punished for permitting the boy to carry a gun.

Miss Fatt—Doctor, I've gained fifteen pounds in the last month.

Doctor—You should worry, with chicken worth thirty cents a pound.

Diner: "What have you got?"

Waiter: "Veal loaf, roast beef, fried chicken, stewed lamb, baked and fried potatoes, cold vegetable, milk and coffee."

Diner: "Give me the fourth, sixth, seventh, eighth, fifteenth and sixteenth syllables."

If you work hard and have luck you can get rich enough to be as carefree as the poor.

"Have you any alarm-clocks," inquired the customer. "What I want is one that will rouse father without waking the whole family."

"I don't know of any such alarm clocks as that, madam," said the shopkeeper. "We keep just the ordinary kind that will wake the whole family without disturbing father."

A Nashville woman is quoted as calling her own sex the "silly sex."

Just let a man try to get away with something like that.

Miss Gush: "I just adore caviar, don't you?"

Mr. Green: "I don't know, what program is he on?"

Sometimes when a fool rushes in he takes everybody by surprise, gets what he wants, and is out again before the wise birds realize he is a fool.

"A man's vocabulary," says Professor Johnson O'Connor of Stevens Institute, "is the best index of his intelligence. Words are the tools of thought." And, we might add, some have a cutting edge, while others merely bore.

Premier Doumergue, of France has promised to give the country a government by elder statesman. We've heard that word "statesman" but are not familiar with "politicians." It's sad to think how few real statesmen the world has ever produced.

Too Many Persons Who Really Think Don't Talk, And A Lot Who Talk and Don't Think.

"Oh, yes," said the pilot of the river steambot "I've been on this river so long I know where every stump is."

Just then the boat struck a stump which shook it from stem to stern.

"There," he continued, "that's one of them now."

The young lady was looking over the stock of radios. "I want to buy one on the instalment plan," she said.

"Yes, madam, I think that can be arranged," said the clerk. "Have you any references?"

"Yes, from our last dealer."

"May I see them?" he asked.

"Well, I haven't any with me," she returned, "but I'm sure he will be glad to tell you that there wasn't a scratch on the cabinet when he took it back."

At last, we have discovered the human hog. A man in Trieste, Italy, was so hungry when he came home from work that he gulped down a spoon and fork.

Almee McPherson Hutton says she wishes she had been "born in South Carolina," because it is the only state which does not allow divorce. Well, well, or sumpin'.

Gifford Pinchot, Jr., has been given a permit to carry a gun. We didn't know he was running for anything.

A Utica, N. Y., has listed among his assets in a petition in bankruptcy, one dog bite. We'll take a chance on getting along without such assets.

Now that the railroads and bus lines are cutting rates they do it profit a man to go places if he hasn't any money to spend when he gets there?

The fellow who hasn't any faith in the Blue Eagle, probably doesn't take much stock in the stock either.

In the big cities the swanky jewel shops are said to be offering "divorce rings" with a black band to indicate each separation, and there is now some discussion as to whether the markings should be inscribed as service stripes or wound stripes.

"Do you guarantee the result of your nerve treatment?" asked the caller.

"You bet I do," answered the specialist. "Only today, a man came to me for a treatment, and when I had finished, he turned around and tried to borrow $100 from me."

LITTLE STAR
Dear Mr. Hints and Dints:

Here is a little rhyme for your paper—

Twinkle, twinkle, movie star Little darling that you are,
Prett, soon you will grow fat,
Then you'll not twinkle after that.

Signed, A STAR.

There are other things than love,
Things no man may shatter.
There are other things than love . . .
Yes, but do they matter?

Did any of your family ever make a brilliant marriage?
Only in wife.

A young lady walked into a bank the other day and asked to have a check cashed.

"Please endorse the check, madam," the teller said.

"Why, my husband sent it to me," she said.

"Yes, madam, but just endorse it."

Sign it on the back, please and your husband will know we paid you."

She went to the desk and in a few minutes returned with the check indorsed "Your loving wife, Ethel."

An ounce of will power is worth a couple of pounds of dieting, but try and make a hungry woman believe that.

They were discussing the new typist. "What do you think of her?" asked the manager.

We've often wondered how Nero had the heart to fiddle while Rome burned, until we heard the latest jazz music and a "crooner."

With cotton prices still going up down south, everything is pickin' up.

Not so many years ago the people who went to Florida for the winter put their money in real estate. Now they put everything in their stomachs, and at least have the satisfaction of seeing their belt lines grow.

A "Banished" Tugwell?—Ah, No!
As It's Done in Germany
Stockholders Angry Over Salaries

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 3.—Announcement that Rex Tugwell, assistant secretary of agriculture, would be sent to make an agricultural survey of Puerto Rico interested New York immediately. Financial interests pictured the "radical" as being banished.

It is likely, however, that Professor Tugwell will return from Puerto Rico with a world trading plan that may cause the diehards to gasp, although the majority of conservatives are eager for a world trading plan these days.

IN GERMANY

Mergers that cause the dismissal of employees are kept a secret in Germany.

The recently merged German ship lines—North German Lloyd and Hamburg-American—evidently have to make further recessions.

German papers are forbidden to publish the fact.

STIPEND

The U. S. Federal Trade Commission stirred up something in making public large salaries of executives in big corporations.

Stockholders are demanding the scalps of the men to whom directors voted huge salaries and bonuses.

Some of the companies aren't even paying dividends.

The Stock Exchange may be forced by public pressure to make public the salaries of executives in firms whose stock is listed on the exchange. Indeed, public pressure is beating the legislation—but that indicates how much the public favors the legislation before congress.

REFUSED

A list of salaries, of course, is interesting.

But it is equally interesting to observe the corporations that refused to furnish the government commission with a list. Among those corporations are:

Chrysler, General Motors, General Mills, National Biscuit, American Can, Union Oil of California, Allied Chemical, Koppers Gas & Coke and Newmont Mining.

HEAVY LOAD

The stock market, in spite of inflationary credit tendencies, is having a heavy load to bear.

Regulation of public utility salaries and government scandals, a slackening of certain taxes, strikes due to refusal to treat with labor under code restrictions, and continued employment.

Otherwise, the rise in prices simply would precipitate another pyramid, which would crash because the mass of people still would have insufficient funds to exist properly.

EMPLOYMENT
The number of men put to work to remove New York's recent snowfall totaled nearly 98,000. That is equivalent to the population of city such as Schenectady, N. Y.

Historic Anniversaries — 1791. The signing of the Declaration of Independence by the government headed by President George Washington. Cause: A revenue law placing an excise tax on distilled liquors. Result: 15,000 militia of Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey and Virginia went into service to cope with the 16,000 men the rebel counties could muster. The quickness with which this force was assembled quelled the rebellious spirits, made them submit to the tax on spirits, gave the nation a new respect for the power of the federal government.

1815—United States had its second foreign war within three years: it declared war on Algiers to check the depredations of Barbary pirates, and payments of tribute and ransom which had been exacted by the Day of Algiers from the "L'Esclap U. S. for 25 years. War in 1812 with Britain compelled the U. S. to get a navy, and in 1815, Commodore Stephen Decatur was sent to break the humiliating yoke the corsairs had on this country. He fought his way into Bay of Algiers, demanded instant surrender of all American

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

A COMMON BOND
He might have been Italian or possibly a Greek.
But not a word of English could that puzzled stranger speak.
And I had no training in the language of his race.
But I understood his manners and the smile upon his face.
I understood the twinkle in the corner of his eye.
And I knew he wanted my company as I was walking by.

We were riding in a Pullman and as I passed down the aisle
He motioned me to share his seat and did it with a smile.
And so I sat beside him, but I slowly shook my head.
To make him know I couldn't understand a word he said.
He nodded most politely, then with gestures made it known How sad it was to travel in a country all alone.

From his pockets he drew pictures of his home and garden and showed his wife and little children dressed in holiday array.
Touched them each with gentle finger, and he made me understand That the mother of those youngsters was the loveliest in the land.
Ten the eldest, seven the next one,
five the boy; the baby three.
Thus with signs and looks devoted all were introduced to me.

I wished him luck at parting in the only way I could
With a handclasp and a gesture, but I knew he understood.
And perhaps in some far country when he gets back home again He may tell his wife and children of his visit on a train With a Yankee fellow father carrying pictures of his throng Having only smiles for language—and how well we got along!

Relief Program To Start Monday

CWA Workers Will Be Transferred To New Relief Plan Without Confusion

NEW PROJECTS ARE WORKED OUT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—Whole states will be off the civil works program and operating under President Roosevelt's new plan by Monday morning, Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, said today. He declined to name the individual states.

"We have allocated quotas to all of them, but some are ready to go ahead on the new plan," Hopkins said. "We are trying to arrange this thing so there will be no shocks in the transfer from civil works to the new plan."

He said there would be "no leaf-raking." The projects on which local programs will be based, Hopkins said, are all constructive. Criticism had been put to work raking leaves. Hopkins announced that quotas for the next four weeks, through March 30, under the civil works program, would mean a reduction of 1,104,000 workers. Effective today, the total payrolls will be reduced to 2,609,500 workers March 3, to 3,373,500, and proportionate reductions each week thereafter.

The reductions do not include federal projects under supervision of federal departments, or those of the emergency education program. Effective today the quotas announced for states included: Pennsylvania 236,000.

Welsh Folks Honor Saint

Welsh Tea Party Preceded Splendid Program In First Congregational Church

Pittsburgh Attorney Speaks Of High Caliber Of The Welsh People As A Whole

Several hundred Welshmen and descendants of the Welsh assembled in the First Congregational church on Reynolds street Friday evening to do honor to St. David, the patron saint of Wales.

The activities of the evening began with a "Welsh" tea party, served to almost three hundred in the Sunday school room of the church by the women of the Willing Workers class. Jonquils in bud vases were used in decorating the long tables and a Welsh menu was served.

After the group had been served all assembled in the church auditorium and a most interesting program was presented, this having been arranged by the Men's Bible class.

Rev. Rees T. Williams acted as chairman of the evening and in his witty manner, introduced the various numbers on the program, which opened by the assemblage singing "America" under the leadership of David Lewis, with Mrs. Mary Hopkins Evans at the piano, followed by an enthusiastic rendition of a Welsh hymn.

In an introductory speech, Rev. Williams told of the love of the Welsh for their native land and recited the poem "The Man Without a Country", after which he introduced the soloist of the evening, Robert Johns.

Mr. Johns is baritone soloist in the First Presbyterian church, Sixth avenue, Pittsburgh and accompanied by Mrs. Johns at the piano, he thrilled his audience with "I Love Life" and "Danny Deever", singing "O! Dry Those Tears" as an encore.

Men's Chorus Sing

The men's chorus of 30 voices rang out in the singing of some old Welsh tunes, with David Lewis as director.

The speaker of the evening was Thomas Jones, a young attorney from Pittsburgh, a young Welshman filled with the energy and enthusiasm of his countrymen.

He had as his topic "The Legacy of St. David" and in opening his address gave a brief history of the myths and legends concerning the saint and said he did not know whether it was his birth or his death that was celebrated March 1, but that did not make any difference, it was only a symbol of his teachings and memory that is observed. He was sainted for saving Great Britain from the heretics. In going on Mr. Jones said it was the high caliber of the average Welshman he was going to laud, not those who had risen to high places. He spoke of the Welsh as honest, energetic, progressive and ambitious, saying, that in looking over the criminal records of any city or country where the Welsh live, one does not find the police blotter containing any of the good old Welsh names.

He spoke of New Castle as being a mecca for the Welsh and of the trust and confidence placed in each other by this splendid group of residents and in concluding he said the Welshman should be proud of himself and proud of his Welsh friends.

Mr. Johns again thrilled the audience with "The Pilate" another Welsh song, and "Coming Home", his audience was reluctant to have him leave the platform at each appearance.

The Men's chorus, with Miss Florrie Davis as soloist, sang "Forth to Battle" with every Welshman in the group putting his utmost into his singing. Mr. Jones again obliged with some request numbers, after which a chorus of men and women sang, and the program closed with the entire group joining in the Welsh national anthem, and "The Star Spangled Banner."

Plans for the coming Lawrence county convention which will, in all probability, be held at the First Presbyterian church, Ellwood City, Pa., Thursday, June 14th, were discussed at the monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association last Thursday.

It was also moved that a suggested pageant being prepared by Miss Margaret Walker, temperance superintendent, be sent to the various Sabbath Schools of the junior department.

It was also announced that Clarence A. Patterson, president of New Castle district, has stated that New Castle district convention would be held during the month of April in one of the centrally located churches, to be announced later.

Mrs. Albert B. Street, children's division superintendent, stated that one of the activities of her division would be in having the various districts furnish two books that were being selected at the present time for use of children's division work.

Joe Zuzow, Who Held Up
Moravia Street Store, Sent To Huntingdon

MARINO IS GIVEN WORKHOUSE TERM

At sentence court held by Judges Hildebrand and Chambers this morning Joe Zuzow, for holding up Max Aronson and Mrs. Jacob Aronson, and robbing the Aronson store on Moravia street, was sentenced to Huntingdon Industrial Reformatory school. Zuzow held up Max Aronson, took him to a back room of the store and tied him up with adhesive tape. Mrs. Aronson, who was in the back room, was also tied up and taped. Zuzow then looted the cash register of $5.

James Walker, who was arrested with liquor in his possession that did not bear a revenue stamp, was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 and costs and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for six months.

Phillip Marino, who entered a plea to pandering, was fined $25 and costs, and sentenced six months to the Allegheny county workhouse.

Mike Muff, for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs, and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for one month.

William Harlan, who was recently brought back from Sacramento, Cal., to answer a larceny charge, was sentenced to the Industrial Reform school at Huntingdon. Harlan was wanted here on a charge of holding up H. E. Hutchinson on the Wilmington road. He was brought back to New Castle by State Policeman A. C. Hughmanick.

Previously he had been arrested in connection with several other robberies in this city, and was under parole at the time the Hutchinson gas station was held up. He was sentenced to Huntingdon also on this charge. Harlan was told that he could be sent to the penitentiary, but the court was disposed to give him a chance to reform by sending him to Huntingdon. He had nothing to say when he came up for sentence, further than that he denied that he had refused to come back without extradition papers. He claimed that he did not understand the question of the California sheriff when he had been asked if he would come without the papers.

Taylor Announces
For Assembly Post

Dr. Frederick Taylor To Seek Republican Nomination For Second Legislative District

In a statement today, Dr. Frederick Taylor of Pulaski announces himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for General Assembly from the Second District of Lawrence county. His statement follows:

"After giving the matter careful consideration I have decided to enter the lists as a candidate for the Republican nomination for General Assembly from the Second District of Lawrence county. I do so with a full realization of the importance of the next session of the General Assembly with respect to tax legislation, highway legislation and legislation affecting the schools of the state.

"For the past 23 years I have been engaged in the business of farming and have conducted the Everglad Certified Milk farm. As a practical farmer I believe I have some appreciation of the problems of the farmer, and my experience as a business man should qualify me to act intelligently upon questions concerning the business of government.

"One of the pressing problems just now is that of the rural schools. The time has come when the state must share more of the burden of the local rural schools. The burden on farms and small businesses is already too heavy and if we are to continue to keep rural schools open, some other way must be found than by taking real estate.

"I believe in the expansion of our highway program and since the days of the 'Good Road Movement' have taken an active interest in the securing of hard roads for the rural districts of Lawrence county."

New Castle High Defeats Union 45 To 18

Reiber Stars As New Castle Wins Tourney Battle

Captain "Bus" Reiber In Final Home Game Scores Total Of 19 Points

Union Plays Well First and Third Periods; Kelly And Boron Are Good

CAPTAIN Lester Reiber played his final game for New Castle High school before a home crowd, was the outstanding star of the W. P. I. A. L. tourney battle staged last night at the George Washington Junior High gym, with New Castle topping Union High 45 to 18. Reiber had 19 of the New Castle points. Only a fair sized crowd witnessed the game. New Castle by virtue of their victory advances to the second round of the tourney meeting Ambridge.

Close First Period
Union High played a fine brand of basketball against their older and more experienced opponents. In the first few minutes of the first period the Boyemen made things interesting for the big New Castle team by staying even, and going ahead when "Red" Boron caged three field goals in rapid order, before the New Castle team got collected.

The end of the first period found New Castle with a lead of but 9 to 6. Reiber had two field goals and Kelly and Kominic each had one. Boron had all of the points for the Union team. The big Washington High floor were the Unionites down.

New Castle Takes Lead
By the end of the first half New Castle with Captain Reiber running wild had a lead of 22 to 9. Reiber scored four field goals like clockwork, and Hitchens and Ostrosky also had field goals. Union's three points were made by Paul Morrison and Wayne White. There was quite a bit of error passing on both sides in the first half.

Union started out fast in the third period and for a time it looked as if they would cut down the New Castle lead. Coach Dave Boyd sent in Monico to replace Hughes at forward, and that seemed to pep up the Union team somewhat. New Castle only won the third quarter 9 to 8. Hughes, Schaar, Morrison and White scored the points for the Union team, the first three on field goals and White on a foul. For the New Castle team Reiber had one field goal, and Kelly had a pair of double-deckers. Nigro, a sub for Hitchens, made a couple of fouls and Kelly also shot a four point shot. It was the fourth and final period that New Castle "turned on the heat" and outscored Union 14 to 1. Coach Bridenbaugh sent in his entire second team before the period ended. Coach Boyd sent in Monico, Nigro and Rudessil. Before Captain Reiber left the game he piled in two more baskets making a total of nine for the game and 19 points. Nigro shot a field goal in his last game for New Castle High. Miles had a pair of field goals and Ostrosky had a field goal to end the scoring. Fleming, Nahas, Pratt, Tuscano and Miles were the New Castle subs used.

Union Plays Fine Game
Boron's foul was the only point made by Union in the final session. Union High played a fine game against great odds, and should not feel discouraged at the outcome. In their class Union will give any of them a real battle, but against New Castle it was different. The Section champions looked like a snappy team in the first and third periods. Boron, White and Morrison stood out quite brilliantly. Schaar also played a fine game at center against big Joe Kelly. White as usual played ed his fine guarding game. Union has two more games in the County league with Mt. Jackson and Shenango.

Reiber of course was head and shoulders above the field, while Kelly, Ostrosky and Miles looked good for New Castle.

Ambridge High Next
The Section Three New Castle champs have a tough row to hoe the next game it is Ambridge. This game will be played Saturday night March 10 at the Beaver Falls High school. Should New Castle defeat Ambridge they will move on to Pitt stadium for their next game which will be a quarter-final game. If New Castle gets by Ambridge they will probably be pitted against the great Duquesne High quintet.

Score by periods.
New Castle.....9 13 9 14-45
Union.....6 3 8 1-18
Fouls: Missed—New Castle: Reiber 1, Nigro 3, Ostrosky 1, Union: Hughes 3, Boron 3, Schaar 2, White 1. Total Fouls—New Castle, 5 out of 10. Union, 4 out of 13. Referee—Yans Wallace.

Wallace Cappel Defeats Evans

Buddy Walker Scores Technical Knockout Over Atkinson

Joey Evans, Ellport, lost to Wallace Cappel, colored, Youngstown, in an amateur featherweight boxing bout last night at Humbert Hall. The bout went five, two minute rounds. Evans was unable to solve the Youngstown battler's southpaw style. In the grand finale Buddy Walker, another colored southpaw of Youngstown, opened a long gash above Ray Atkinson's right eye and the referee, Sam Leyschok, stopped the bout and awarded a technical knockout to Walker. They are welterweights. Four hundred fans witnessed the Jefferson A. C. scraps.

Pete Boy, Ellwood City, defeated Jimmy Varro, Youngstown, at 160 pounds in a bout marred by clinching. The boys fought in the third round and awarded the bout to Lohrman. Lohrman was down for counts twice in the first and once in the second round.

Enon Valley High Tops Harlansburg

Enon Valley high school basketball team handed the Harlansburg high quintet, a 40 to 8 defeat, last night at the Enon Valley high floor. The score at the end of the first half was 33 to 1. Shenango High Tops Bessemer By Score 25-16

Startling Upset In County League Circles; Paves Way For Union To Win Title

SHENANGO PLAYS IMPRESSIVE GAME

Shenango high school basketball team just about made it possible for Union high to annex the Lawrence county high school championship this year by winning a startling upset victory 25 to 16 over the powerful Bessemer high quintet at the Bessemer floor. The Raneymen led all during the game and played impressively.

Bessemer's championship hopes went glimmering near the end of the first half when the Raneys coached team drew away to a 12 to 4 lead. In the final four minutes of the second half the Bessemer team put on a big rally, but failed to overtake the Shenangoites.

Kalajainen and Polenick were the big stars for the Shenango high team, with eight points apiece. For the Bessemer team the playing of Marshall and DeArment was the best, with seven points apiece. Bessemer up until last night had a chance to the Union for the county title, but the Shenango boys made this only another dream. Bessemer, if anything, was over-confident of beating Shenango.

The Shenango high girls won from the Bessemer high girls 28 to 17 in the preliminary game, and thereby took the county title again this year.

Carnera Has No Class In Ring; Cannot Punch

Tommy Loughran Was Near Title Several Times In Scuffle At Miami, Fla.

GENE TUNNEY IS NOT IMPRESSED

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 3.—Primo Carnera was a very disappointing fighter but he's still the greatest heavyweight in the world today. Max Baer might be a potential winner over Carnera; actually, when Baer attempts to train again, he may be able to do it. A middleweight could and would cut him around in a gymnasium. As for Tommy Loughran, if his body was as sound as his heart and brain, he'd be the heavyweight champion himself.

These, boiled down to what might be termed a few arresting statements represents the findings of Mr. Gene Tunney of Palm Beach, Park avenue and the prize ring of six years ago. The time was when Mr. Tunney was the greatest of all heavyweights himself but other things have arisen to claim his abstracted attention, so that nowadays when he strolls negligently in upon a prize fight it is largely with the air of wishing to see how the other half lives.

I encountered Mr. Tunney in the act of being a house guest of Bernard Gimbel, the merchant, at the latter's beach cottage. They call it a cottage because it looks so small alongside of the Elks home at Toppeka, Kan.

"A bitterly disappointing performance," was his immediate comment and then he went on as follows: "Carnera can't punch. He can't do anything except rough his man inside. But what a man he is, nevertheless. When you get a giant, 270 pounds in weight and with the strength of a bull, in there with ordinary heavyweights, there isn't much chance for the latter. Carnera has three things and they're just about enough."

"He has a fine left hand. He has the size and strength and he has become a very good infighter. I don't think there is a better heavyweight in the world today, in spite of his poor showing here. And I certainly would say his showing was poor in contrast to his performance against Sharkey. He looked almost like a good fighter that night."

Foxx Demanding Twenty Thousand

Famous Athletic Slugger Wants $20,000 Or Nothing From Connie Mack

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 3.—Twenty thousand a year or nothing? That's Jimmy Foxx's price for subjecting himself to six months of fresh air and sunshine between the hours of three and five of any given afternoon this summer.

Offhand, it sounds a little luxurious common labor being what it is, but Mr. Foxx is common like an ear of corn in a florist's window. Mr. Foxx the young man who, on behalf of Mr. Cornelius Mack, hits most of the home runs and drives in most of the American league runs thru-out a given season. And on behalf of Mr. Foxx, Mr. Mack would wish to say that, after a struggle, he has persuaded himself to believe that the young man is worth at least $15,000 a year to him.

Two years ago, Al Simmons, who cannot hit any better than Mr. Foxx and does not of necessity handle as many chances, was worth $33,333.33 a year to Mr. Mack. In any case, that is what Mr. Mack paid him and if it makes the case any clearer, Mr. James Dykes, an ex-associate, 37 years old and just another ball player, is to draw $11,000 from the Chicago White Sox for this year. So Mr. Foxx wishes to announce today that he is 26 and very sore.

Hollywood Recruit Makes Statement About Clothes And Draws Ire Of
The Stars

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Mar. 3.—Hollywood today took rather lightly the declaration of a "recruit in the ranks" that the film colony doesn't know how to dress.

Claudette Colbert referred to such a statement of Virginia Pine, rich Chicago society woman now embarked on a movie career, as the "height of something or other."

Very Patronizing
Stars who commented on Miss Pine's assertion were inclined to be patronizing rather than indignant.

From New York, Lilyan Tashman, credited with being one of the best dressed women in the screen colony said:

"I defy anyone to find a group of women anywhere who are as clothes-conscious or who have as an intelligent an idea of what to wear as our Hollywood motion picture players."

"This doesn't mean, of course, that they are all well groomed and well dressed, but there is a big percentage of them that would stand the test of smartness were they compared with any celebrated women of fashion anywhere."

Said Miss Colbert:

"It is the height of something or other when someone from the outside criticizes Hollywood styles when as a matter of fact, Hollywood sets the style for the outside world."

Sensible Clothes
Carol Lombard was no less positive.

"I've been in Hollywood since I was six years old, and I have found that it is the most common-sense place in the matter of clothes. There is no reason why an actress should carefully dress just to ride to the studio where she must undress and dress again for her role on the screen. Clothes form the greater part of our working hour worries, and that's the reason why we seek comfort off the set."

Kay Francis cited world interest in Hollywood fashions to blast at Miss Pine:

"Women in Hollywood dress as well as women in any fashion center in the world. Proof of that is seen when Hollywood women go to New York, London, or Paris where fashion designers pay a great deal of attention to the clothes brought from Hollywood."

(International News Service)
PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Mar. 3.—For the first time in Punxsutawney's history, the main water lines in the city were frozen during a recent cold wave. The ground froze to a depth of more than three feet. Rawl Startzell, superintendent of the local water company, made the discovery when men were required to dig that deep in order to reach one of the main lines which had become frozen.

CIVIL WAR GENERAL
DESIGNED HEADSTONE
(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Mar. 3.—Gen. William
T. Sherman, St. Louis' noted Civil War leader, designed the monument
that now marks his final resting place here, it has been revealed in two unpublished letters just made public.
The letters, written in July, 1869,

in longhand, are the property of the original recipient, Lt. W. C. Brown, now a Brigadier General, retired, of Denver, who was stationed at West Point.
They asked Lt. Brown to secure information regarding a monument
at West Point which the general admired, and explained he planned to be buried at his wife's side and preferred "a simple but tasty headstone of granite."

This week close to 1400 books
have been circulated among patronizers of the South Side Library, no-located at 1214 South Side M. street, a report shows.
The new location which is much larger, cleaner and lighter, than where the library was located first at 1209½ South Mill street, is better well patronized as the figures will show. To aid traffic in the library room, a turnstile has been constructed at the front end of the room.
This is the only branch of the library which has a turnstile.
To stimulate interest among adult
of the South Side, books are displayed in the window. Those who are in charge of the library are
Mrs. Paul Allen, Mrs. Roy Johnson
and Miss Gladys Gray. This book shop is open every Tuesday and Friday from 12:30 o'clock to 9:00 p. m.

On Court House Hill

Legislative acts frequently contain "jokers" and the 3.2 beer bill under which licenses were granted last June was no exception. The "joke" in this bill appears to have been that it provided that licenses be issued by the county treasurers of the various counties, but failed to provide anything in the way of compensation either for the work necessary in investigating the applicants, or for taking care of subsequent infractions of the law.

In order that the work be legally done it was necessary for County Treasurer, William O. Pitts to employ an attorney. The attorney and Mr. Pitts spent about two weeks of their time investigating and hearing the applications. The treasurer supposed of course that the employment of an attorney was necessary procedure, and so did the county commissioners with whom he talked. But when the bill of the attorney was presented County Controller R. C.
McCaslin could find nothing in the act which provided for expenses.

Consequently he refused to pay the bill. County Treasurer Pitts again dug down into his pocket and paid
the bill.

But that is not all. When charges were preferred against one of the persons to whom license had been granted and a hearing was held it was found that there was no provision for summoning or paying witnesses. County Treasurer Pitts again dug down into his pocket and paid
the bill.

But it did not end there. The county treasurer is supposed to see that the law is obeyed, yet no provision is made for taking care of the expense. Only yesterday he had a complaint against a party in Ellwood City. He furnished his own automobile and paid a man for an investigation. Again out of his own pocket, Treasurer Pitts does not object to giving his own time, but when it comes to the payment of necessary expenses, he believes that the absence of any provisions for taking care of them is the "joker" in the law.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has received from the publisher copies in book form of the new rules of court which were compiled by a committee of the Lawrence County Bar Association and approved by the court. The committee consisted of Attorneys Wylie McCaslin, J. Norman Martin, Roy M. Jameson, E. M.
Underwood, and W. Walter Braham.
The books are bound in buckram, and 125 copies have been received, one for each member of the bar, with some for future members.

The rules cover all kinds of actions which are brought in court, the subjects appearing under different headings such as, accounts, appeals from judgments, allowances, appeals from the register of wills, arguments, attachments, bail, citations, divorces, evidence, executions, and many other subjects. The rules prescribe in what manner actions are to be brought, and provide for uniformity of practice.

Lowell Thomas
To Thrill Crowd
New Castle Audience To Hear World Traveller On March 10

When General Allenby took Jerusalem from the Turks during the World War it was more than news;
it was the fulfillment of prophecy.
The campaign in Palestine was one of the brilliant achievements of the British troops in the World War, and those achievements will be shown in picture form here Saturday, March 10, when Lowell Thomas speaks in the Cathedral, under the auspices of the Lions Club.

Not only will these pictures be shown, but Thomas will show his pictures in Lawrence in Arabia.
With his lecture on the achievements of this soldier of fortune, Lowell Thomas can be depended upon to provide an evening of vicarious thrills.

No one needs to be told who Lowell Thomas is. His voice has been heard by every person in the United States it is estimated, but seeing him, hearing him speak from the stage, and seeing the pictures he presents is something else again.

The Lions will use the net proceeds of the Lowell Thomas lecture to further their splendid work for the blind.

CIVIL WAR GENERAL
DESIGNED HEADSTONE
(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Mar. 3.—Gen. William
T. Sherman, St. Louis' noted Civil War leader, designed the monument
that now marks his final resting place here, it has been revealed in two unpublished letters just made public.
The letters, written in July, 1869,

in longhand, are the property of the original recipient, Lt. W. C. Brown,
now a Brigadier General, retired, of Denver, who was stationed at West Point.
They asked Lt. Brown to secure
information regarding a monument
at West Point which the general
admired, and explained he planned
to be buried at his wife's side and preferred "a simple but tasty head-
stone of granite."

This week close to 1400 books
have been circulated among patronizers of the South Side Library, no-located at 1214 South Side M.
street, a report shows.
The new location which is much larger, cleaner and lighter, than
where the library was located first
at 1209½ South Mill street, is better well patronized as the figures will show. To aid traffic in the library room, a turnstile has been constructed at the front end of the room.
This is the only branch of the library which has a turnstile.
To stimulate interest among adult
of the South Side, books are displayed in the window. Those who are in charge of the library are
Mrs. Paul Allen, Mrs. Roy Johnson
and Miss Gladys Gray. This book
shop is open every Tuesday and Friday from 12:30 o'clock to 9:00 p. m.

Our Obligation Here
As We See It

One has only to consider what would be the situation if all the automobiles, trucks and other motor vehicles were standing still—unable to move—to realize that they don't amount to anything unless they are running.
That's why we have always felt that our duty and responsibility to this community and our opportunity here goes far beyond the mere sale of the cars. And that's why we have far more invested in the essentials of operation and maintenance than in new car stocks.

We like to have every one who buys a Pontiac, Buick, LaSalle or Cadillac from us feel that here is a capable local institution willing and able to assume responsibility for satisfaction in their ownership. We like to feel that we render a valuable public service in connection with automotive transportation in New Castle.

Come in and see the new models. Come in and see the local organization that stands back of them.

MARCH OF PROGRESS

Celebrating the First Anniversary of the New Deal
Begins Monday, March 5, 1934

Think back one year ago today! Ruthless depression rode the country. Fear and uncertainty gripped the nation in an icy hand. Banks were closed. Business was at a standstill. And no man knew what the morrow might bring.

Today... HOW DIFFERENT! New hope in every eye... new courage in every heart. There is action. There is movement. From all parts of the country come reports of increased business... BETTER TIMES.

BUT WE MUST GO ON! We cannot stop now and say "Things are picking up. We're coming out of the depression." We must HELP things pick up. We must all plan and work and ACT to keep business going, to accelerate its movement.

It is in this spirit that, months ago, we began action on the great series of events we are now to hold. We studied your preferences... made a thorough inquiry into your desires.
We went into the market prepared to give extraordinarily large orders and, as a result, obtained unusual values.
Everything offered in these events is new, fresh, fashion-right... covering every need for you, your family and for your home.

Make up your mind now to take full advantage of the opportunities in these events. Watch the advertisements closely every day. You'll be sure to see the very things you want,
AT TEMPTING PRICES.

MARCH OF PROGRESS

Celebrating the First Anniversary of the New Deal
Begins Monday, March 5, 1934.

Annual Sale of Hosiery Starts Monday

Inasmuch as the date of the March of Progress conflicts with our Annual Hosiery Sale, the Hosiery advertisement will appear in Tuesday night's paper; however, the Hosiery Sale begins Monday.
